RAB Drilling Commences at Dodgers Well

Terrain Minerals Limited is pleased to announce that a drill rig and crew has arrived on site and have now commenced up to 3000m RAB exploration program at Dodgers Well, north of Leonora, Western Australia.

The program aims to test a number of previously unexplored structural faults and their intersections. All structures are under cover and all have historical workings along them.

The current RAB drilling program will test an estimated 1500m~ area in length.
